

Keep Looking Young

Nobody wants to grow old looking any faster than they can help; some look old at forty while others don't begin to show their age at seventy.

Everybody knows that to keep young looking you have first got to be blessed with good health, and second to do as little worrying as possible. Most of the ills that the flesh is heir to are caused by a disordered stomach, liver or kidneys. These can be regulated and kept in good condition by taking SEVEN BARKS, nature's great remedy of roots and herbs.

Digestive troubles also spoil beauty, rob you of sleep, make dark rings around the eyes and ruins the complexion. Let SEVEN BARKS digest your food and tone up your stomach, then you may eat what you like; bright eyes will soon return, and you will feel fit for your daily duties.

Science says that old age begins with weakened kidneys and digestive organs. If you keep these organs cleansed and in proper working order, old age can be deferred and life prolonged beyond the average age. No better remedy can be found than SEVEN BARKS to keep the stomach, liver and kidneys in good order, thus assuring you good health.

Old-fashioned nature's remedies are the best, so don't fail to keep a bottle of SEVEN BARKS on hand. Get it at your druggist's. Price, 60 cents.

In the Day's News.

Marion Leroy Burton, who is to be inaugurated president of the University of Michigan today, has an excellent record as an educator and college administrator, established during years of service, first as president of Smith College and later as head of the University of Minnesota. Dr. Burton is a native of Iowa, grew up a farmer's boy, and found his way to Minneapolis, where, in a measure he was dependent on self-support. Means were found to send him to Carleton College, where he made a record of fine character and unusual scholastic ability. Then followed a period of teaching, ordination to the ministry, and service on the faculty of the Yale Divinity School. In 1909, while serving as pastor of a Brooklyn church, he was called to the presidency of Smith College, where he continued until 1917, when he was chosen president of the University of Minnesota.

The Hosiery Service

You Have the Right to Expect

A WOMAN is a loyal customer for goods she knows and believes in. She expects her dealer to justify her loyalty.

Her Hosiery needs, for instance. He could do her no greater service than by standardizing his stocks.

Not a mixture of odd lots and different brands—but all of a kind, and just the kind she wants, in wear, comfort and price.

For thirty years the Mills of the Allen A Company have been giving such a service to thousands of men and women everywhere.

Every piece of their famous Black Cat Hosiery will in the future carry the "Allen A" mark of identification.

"Allen"—the name of the Makers; the personal pledge of responsibility to you. And "A"—the standard mark of first and finest grade.

Allen A Black Cat hosiery comes direct to your dealer from the Mill.

Silk, lisle, wool, and cotton—for men, women and children.

Your dealer can concentrate his entire Hosiery business on this one uniform and dependable make—if he means his hosiery department to give you the service you have the right to expect.
